The threat of enshrining same-sex “marriage” in law is merely the culmination of much more insidious threats that are undermining the understanding of marriage, motherhood, and fatherhood in every family. Join Bill May, Chairman of Catholics for the Common Good, and leader of the Catholic response in the Prop 8 campaign, for a discussion of how to apply the lessons of Prop 8 to rebuilding a marriage culture. Surprisingly, the answer has less to do with homosexuality and related lifestyles, and more to do with confusion that leads many to unwittingly accept false premises. Restoring a marriage culture is not possible without re-grounding ourselves in reality and our shared human experience.

WILLIAM B. MAY

CHAIRMAN, CATHOLICS FOR THE COMMON GOOD

William B. May is founder and chairman of Catholics for the Common Good, a lay apostolate for the evangelization of culture. He is a sought after speaker on marriage, family, culture, and the imperative of regaining the offense to promote the centrality and integrity of marriage for children and society. In 2008, Bill and Catholics for the Common Good were asked by the California Catholic Conference to lead Catholics for Protect Marriage, the lay Catholic response to the Proposition 8 effort that successfully restored the definition of marriage between a man and a woman in California. He has appeared on Good Morning America, ABC, CBS, NBC, PBS, BBC, Fox News Channel, CNN, EWTN Radio, Immaculate Heart Radio, the Catholic Channel, and many other programs.
